Ojai Valley Gun Club National Match Report - June 2010

National Match Report

No information on the June match at this time.

Coming up on the 4th of July will be a Special NRA Approved Garand/Springfield/ Vintage Match.

Dust off that old service rifle (1903 Springfield, M1 Garand, M1A, AR15, etc.), or that “tricked out” match rifle and come up and join the National Match Highpower shooters for a fun day on the range. The matches are open to both members and non-members. New shooters or beginners in the highpower discipline are welcomed and encouraged. We hope to see you there. Look for detailed fliers with information on all matches, both “NRA Approved” and “club” events on the OVGC website, under “National Match”. The 2010 OVGC Highpower Calendar of Events can be found there as well.

Information on installing a Boyd's stock on an M1 Garand.

Another Boyd's Stocks for Dummies request

Posted By: Gus Fisher

Date: Sunday, 16 March 2003, at 6:23 p.m.

Area 1. I prefer to clear on all of them so they will fit milled trigger guards. This area may have to be widened, lengthened or deepened for the milled trigger guard. Not applicable though if using a stamped trigger guard.

Area 2. The two bedding surfaces may have to be inlet further down if too far from the top of the stock. Measure against a G.I. stock. If it's within 20 thousandths of an inch, no sweat. 50 thousandths or more calls for more inletting.

Area 3. No problem as long as the housing doesn't stick or jam there. Hardly ever a problem.

Area 4. One of the BIGGEST problems lately on Boyd's stocks. The angled cuts on each side usually have to be deepened and taken further back to the rear. The triggerguard should not bear on this clearance cut.

Area 5. This sometimes is a problem and has to be cleared back a bit. The housing may contact here, but should not be bearing any real pressure against it.

Area 6. Only AFTER areas 1,2,3,4,5 and 8 are cleared should one carefully take this area down a little if the tension on closing the trigger guard is too much. If you can close the trigger guard and open it without getting a hernia, stop there as it will loosen with use.

Area 7. A very important area to ensure the receiver is not loose front to rear. Often loose on Boyd's stocks and has to be epoxy bedded.

Area 8. A prime cause of cracking of original stocks is when the front of the trigger housing contacted here. There should be no contact or the effect of counter recoil can crack the stock here. You don't have to have much clearance. As long as you can barely see light between the housing and this part, you are just fine. HTH
